Transmitted light imaging lets us know the original score before changes – musicians want to play the original to understand how the composer changed the composition
